

Irish Terriers 2013

Ralph Dornan

Ruby Star

1996 - 2012

Surely one of the most endearing Irish Terriers of all time, Ruby Star was an 'actor'. She was adored by her 'co directors' Jeff and Peter and everyone who knew her. She added so much joy to the world.

Cover picture

Portrait of Digby painted by Arabella Dorman who has her own Irish and catches the spirit of the 'Micks' so perfectly. Gillie says "Wayward, independent, adorable, beautiful and a 'smiler' which wins all hearts."

The multi-talented Archie who runs marathons and climbs over hill and dale with Mark. He is athletic, hardy, and strong with a passion for energetic days out with his Dad. He’s a marvellous ‘boy’s boy’ and great games player, but . . . he can do it all . . . (have a look at March)

Rosie with her great friend Nelson on the edge of Borrowdale in the Lake District. Rosie is no swimmer but chases Nelson along the shore. She is Caroline's adored first dog and has a great life, spending the days with her 'grandparents' who 'spoil her rotten' . . . the perfect life.

Archie again (remember January) - this time showing his gentle side, supervising the chickens. Sue runs the farm with Archie as her sidekick only, of course when he's taking time out from his sporting life!

This is Penny's first glimpse of Raymond who was born at home and was only three hours old when the picture was taken, it looks like the beginning of a love story. How the Irish worship 'their' children.

Ruby Rhubarb with Ollie, one of her two most favourite people (see the other one, Freddie on the back). Ruby riots with her two boys and is very playful and full of herself. There's a lot of fun ahead for them all.

Another classic study of an Irish Terrier from Hans and Karina. This is Rockefeller von der Emsmühle as a puppy.

He now lives in Switzerland and is greatly admired for his beautiful head, enormous charm and wonderful upbeat Irish temperament.

Sally performing one of the famous Irish terrier leaps. She lives with her house brother the Mighty Quinn who, in spite of his name, is the less assertive of the two. They are devoted to one another (see November) and are stopped constantly by people who say ‘what an absolutely beautiful pair’.

Juno and Jupiter in front of their lake at Holkham Hall. They're very fond of each other and it seems are alike in name and temperament. Jupiter is no pushover and keeps a wary eye on everything that goes on around him. With a name like his, it's hardly surprising that he can be feisty and knows exactly how to push the world along.

Irish Terriers look ‘just perfect’ in every setting. Millie and Maddie who are mother and daughter, add a touch of joyful amusement to this most beautiful house and garden. They have a great life with lovely walks and space to play (see back of the calendar). Fiona says “I’d like to come back to this SEPTEMBER 2013 world as one of our dogs!”

This is Sybil hitching a ride with Fuff, who brought the horse Zazzie home with her from Portugal. They live on a farm in Norfolk and she and mother Whistle have space and opportunity for endless happy adventures (see back of the calendar). It seems they hunt the rabbits and don't always keep OCTOBER 2013 up with the horses!

Our Christmas angel is the beloved Bella Jacobi who is Derek and Richard's favourite 'leading lady'. She has all the charm of the Irish and is 'doing' her wistful look, sending a message of Christmas cheer . . . and of course, captivating her audience.
